

Present Stakeholders for Future Wellness Tourism Skills' Development

The project WellTo is aimed at the development of a joint qualification Administrator of Wellness Centre based on the current needs of stakeholders in the field of vocational education and training and tourism in order to ensure better provision of wellness services and work with clients.

The qualification will reflect recent requirements of employers in wellness tourism, such as deep knowledge of procedures and services offered, excellent communication skills, management and organizational skills.

The project brings together various actors – policy makers in vocational education and training, educational providers in formal and non-formal education, business representatives, chambers and associations active in tourism sector.

The main project outcomes will be:

- a new qualification Administrator of Wellness Centre on the level EQF 4,
- strengthened cooperation with stakeholders in each partner country,
- cooperation between VET schools and wellness tourism companies in order to improve work-based learning provision including transnational student mobility,
- workshops, information events, trainings and conferences,
- information materials about the new qualification and project implementation,
- European Wellness Tourism Skills Network.

The project WellTo (project No.: 597861-EPP-1-2018-1-BG-EPPKA3-VET-JQ) has been funded with the support from the European Commission. This communication reflects the views only of the author, and the Commission cannot be held responsible for any use of the information contained therein.
